

BABIES IN PRISON?

Mother and Baby Prison Health

Ruth Elwood Martin, MD

Clinical Professor, UBC Faculty of Medicine

Mary W. Byrne, PhD

Director, Centre for Children and Families, Columbia University, New York

Brenda Tole

Retired Warden, Alouette Correctional Centre for Women and prison Mother Baby Unit

Amanda

A woman who lived with her baby in a BC prison Mother Baby Unit

Janet Winteringham, QC

Counsel for BC Civil Liberties Association, in Inglis v. British Columbia (Minister of Public Safety)

Kasari Govender, LLB

Executive Director, West Coast Women's Legal Education and Action Fund

JOIN US for a for a free lively panel discussion in support of the rights of an infant to stay with their mother in prison (BC Supreme Court decision, November 2013). Panelists will discuss why prison Mother Baby Units are essential for the health of women and families in Canada, and how they might be implemented in all provinces and territories across Canada.

For more information contact:

1-855-999-4976 ccphe@familymed.ubc.ca
www.ccphe.familymed.ubc.ca
Facebook: www.facebook.com/ccphe.UBC
Twitter: @ccpheUBC

thursday march 13
2014

6 - 8 pm

UBC ROBSON SQUARE

800 Robson Street (between Hornby St. and Howe St.)

Theatre (Room C300)

SPONSORED BY

Interior Health Authority
Women's Health Research Institute
Native Youth Sexual Health Network
Provincial Health Services Authority
Vancouver Island Health Authority

CCPHE
THE COLLABORATING
CENTRE FOR PRISON
HEALTH & EDUCATION